It's safe to say that in 16 years of working for LifeScan, I have never had the same day twice. I enjoy the high energy and the fast pace of JJDCC, whether it's in product development, product launch or product manufacturing.	What is the most important thing you've learned at JJDS? Not to try and do everything myself. JJDS has excelled because it is made up of lots of very bright and motivated people who will go out of their way to help and aid you in the solving of the most complex problem or challenge.	What might someone be surprised to know about you? I enjoy watching Test cricket, the longest form of the sport of cricket. It lasts five days and on each day it stops for tea. It makes a nice counterpoint to the modern world and allows me to relax.

Question 1	What motivates you to come to work each day?
Answer 1	I'm motivated simply by making a difference with my customers through our products and by providing whatever support I can to help them care for their patients.
Question 2	What is the most important thing you've learned at JJDS?
Answer 2	That we're the only company that has a complete offering of solutions to help patients and their healthcare professionals make a difference in their diabetes, from medication to blood glucose monitoring and insulin delivery.
Question 3	What might someone be surprised to know about you?
Answer 3	That I'm always looking for a challenge, especially endurance events. This past year I participated in the first Defi Moi pour toi ("I challenge You") fundraiser as part of an eight-person team that ran 270 kilometers (167 miles) from Montreal to Quebec. We raised $3,000 for a foundation that conducts research on children's diseases.
